CHAPTER VI AT TIN TOWN, LYDD Doing Sentry Go--Camp Ditties--Cooden Camp--Pevensey--Application for a Commission--The Y. M. C. A.--Pay--Flag Worship--At the Target Range--Camp Fare--An Air Raid on Dover Cooden Camp, Bexhill-on-Sea, Sussex 26 August, 1917 Deae Gyles: We arrived here two days ago from Horsham, and move on to Lydd the day after tomorrow. But as to how I martineted the Major, and so on. I was doing sentry go: it was ten o'clock and after. I had been challenging the privates who were entering, when suddenly there appeared, approaching me from within camp, a figure in a British warm. He was short and fat, and walked slowly. Alt! Oo goes there? (Croak, pianissimo): Friend! Advance, friend, an -be-recognised! He advanced and stood glaring at me from the corner of his eye. I looked him all over, finally at the crown on his...

Reviews

It is great and fantastic. Better than ever, though I am quite late in starting to read this one. It has been written in an extremely simple way and is particularly only right after I finished reading this ebook where it actually changed me, affected the way I really believe.

If you need to add benefit, a must-buy book. It normally fails to cost a lot of money. It has been designed in an extremely easy way in fact it is just right after I finished reading through this ebook by which it basically transformed me, changed the way I believe.
