Excerpt: . . . 11 forfeitures, and international law enforcement; provides leadership for cooperative federal-state-local law enforcement efforts; and coordinates law enforcement issues relating to national security. We give priority attention to crime threats that have a Federal or uniquely national dimension, including drug trafficking, organized crime, terrorism, white collar crime, alien smuggling, gang-related violence, and crimes occurring in Indian country. We also aggressively investigate and prosecute elected and appointed officials at all levels of government who abuse their office and the public's trust. And as crime and justice issues increasingly transcend national boundaries, our international presence has grown. We provide training and technical assistance to foreign law enforcement agencies, negotiate and implement international treaties for mutual legal assistance and extradition, and engage in joint law enforcement investigations with other countries. VIOLENT CRIME Our strategies in seeking to reduce violent crime, especially organized crime and drug and gang-related violence, include efforts to fully implement the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994, as well as other relevant statutes. We seek to identify, penetrate and dismantle major and emerging organized criminal enterprises, including street gangs engaged in illegal activity. We also support comprehensive attacks on violent crime through the establishment of multi-agency, intergovernmental task forces. Organized Crime With critical assistance from our Organized Crime and Racketeering Section (OCRS), John A. Gotti, son of the former boss of the Gambino La Cosa Nostra family in New York City, was recently indicted and convicted along with a number of his associates. In the last two years, RICO and other indictments have been brought against La Cosa Nostra bosses and captain. . . This item...
