THE EXILE'S PAPERS: THE DUPLICITY OF AUTOBIOGRAPHY - PART ONE

Porcupine's Quill, 2007. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Porcupine's Quill 2007 New/ Full Title: The Exile's Papers: The Duplicity of Autobiography - Part One. Product Description The Exile's Papers, Part One, considers the implications of duplicity in autobiography as they appear in the first two hundred or so sonnets of a four-volume sonnet cycle completed over the past twenty years by the Lost Poet of the 1960s, confronted at the end of the middle game by anonymity on the one hand, and by opportunity the mass of a black hole on the other, in which Rilke, in his guise as Witness to the Angel, speculates on raw, necessary existence. Disney's Jiminy Cricket remains, of course, unconvinced. From the Author Ezra Pound, a native son, many of whose jingles have become wisdom, advised his peers to make it new. That Modern man fashioned his exile out of his Idahoan accent, and prestidigitated his charisma into a disguise for what was otherwise a romantic troubadour. Fashion's, of course, what comes 'round again, and sonnets, especially in sequences (which Ezra wished to make as passT as Chicago's District Attorney now intends to show is the seigneurial capitalism demonstrated so nobly by our very own Connie, Lord VeryCross) have sprouted through the concrete slabs of the mall-mindedness of this continent's verse.
